“All the believers were one in heart and mind. No one claimed that any of their possessions was their own, but they shared everything they had. With great power the apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. And God’s grace was so powerfully at work in them all that there were no needy persons among them. For from time to time those who owned land or houses sold them, brought the money from the sales and put it at the apostles’ feet, and it was distributed to anyone who had need.

Joseph, a Levite from Cyprus, whom the apostles called Barnabas (which means “son of encouragement”), sold a field he owned and brought the money and put it at the apostles’ feet.”

–Acts 4:32–37

This is exactly the kind of community we can strive for here at camp; a community of selflessness. Chances are God has blessed you with some good thing – wealth, musical talent, physical strength, hospitality, an encouraging spirit – so just like the early church we should share those gifts with the rest of the group. This is what healthy community looks like, this is what true church is.
